Dear Director Lincoln:

The Minnesota Department of Human Rights (MDHR) submits its semi-annual report to the Legislature summarizing investigation results and the resolution of complaints filed with the Department for the first six months (January-June) of 2015.

Summary:

MDHR continues to improve its effectiveness by focusing on closing older cases and on reducing investigation time. This has resulted in reducing its inventory of cases, reducing the number of cases over one year old to a historic low, and reducing the average time to reach a determination by 61 days.

As a result of the Department's effort in this area, the Department's inventory has dropped from 842 cases at the end of December 2012 to 390 cases at the end of June 2015. There was a reduction of 46 cases in the past six months.

MDHR reduced the number of cases older than one year by 61% during the reporting period. MDHR now only has 12 cases older than one year, after beginning the calendar year with 31 cases older than one year. The work of the Department in eliminating its inventory of old cases has been dramatic. As of June 2012, the Department had 228 cases older than one year; this is a 95% reduction over the past 3 years.

The Department's average time to reach a determination during this period was 266 days. This is a decrease of 61 days from the end of 2014. This builds off of a reduction of 51 days during the period from July-January 2014 for a reduction of 112 days on average in the past year to date. In the past 2.5 years, the Department has reduced the average time to issue a determination by 4 months, a 31% reduction.

During the reporting period, the Department settled nearly twice as many cases through conciliation over the prior 6-month period. The Department settled 75 cases for a total of $311,623 in damages. In the second half of 2014, the Department settled 39 cases for $487,625.

- The Department pursued mediation in 43 (15.14%) of the 284 charges filed this reporting period; the parties agreed to mediate in 22 cases (7.75%). MDHR successfully scheduled 13 mediations in which 1 case reached settlement. The average time for a mediation to reach settlement was 157 days. 22 charges are currently in some phase of the mediation process.

Trends:

- Employment charges continue to constitute the largest number of charges filed with the Department. 277 employment related charges were filed during the reporting period which constitutes 59.4% of all charges filed.
